

About Victim Support

Victim Support is the independent national charity which helps people cope with crime.

We have a network of local branches covering the whole of England and Wales. We offer support to 1.1 million victims of crime every year. There are separate organisations covering Scotland, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

Our trained volunteers offer:

- someone to talk to in confidence
- information on police and court procedures
- help in dealing with other organisations
- information about compensation and insurance
- links to other sources of help.

Anyone affected by crime can get our help, either direct from our local branches or through the Victim Supportline.

Our services are free and available to everyone. It doesn't matter when the crime happened, or if you haven't reported it to the police. We are an independent charity – not part of the police, courts or any other criminal justice agency.

You can call our Victim Supportline on 08 08 16 89 111 or you can call us locally on:
